Management Analyst
(Federal Career Intern Program)

Rural Development Profile

Rural Development (RD) is the U. S. Department of Agriculture's (USDA) agency that is committed to helping improve the economy and quality of life in all of rural America. Through our programs, we touch rural America in many ways. Rural Development Mission Area includes Housing and Community Facilities Programs, Business and Cooperative Programs, Utilities Programs, and a widely dispersed field office structure of 47 State Offices.

Rural Development is seeking a bright and motivated individual who is interested in performing a variety of assignments which supports the mission and vision of the Department of Agriculture.

What is the Federal Career Intern Program?

The Federal Career Intern Program (FCIP) is designed to attract college graduates and experienced professionals interested in careers with the Federal Government. Individuals are appointed to a two-year paid internship program which provides training, development, and valuable full-time on-the-job work experience. After successful completion of the program, interns may be eligible for conversion to a permanent position without further competition.

Position Information

The Telecommunications Program develops, manages and evaluates multiple loans and grant programs, and carries out special programs and projects mandated by the Administration, Congress, and the Utilities Programs' Administrator. The Telecommunications Program assists in developing, planning, and financing the construction of telecommunication infrastructures in Rural America.

The incumbent of this position will be a participant in the Federal Career Intern Program and will serve in a training capacity as a Management Analyst in Rural Development's Utilities Programs, Telecommunications Program. The incumbent will provide management with the information needed to make strategic planning decisions by examining organizational systems, programs, and proposing alternatives for improving efficiency and effectiveness. Incumbent will conduct special studies or surveys of problems, projects, or program implementation, identify deficiencies, and provide senior management with recommended corrective actions. In a training capacity, incumbent will evaluate performance management by utilizing appropriate scientific and mathematical methods. In addition, the incumbent will assist in developing Telecommunications Program's outreach programs and activities.

This position leads to the GS-13 level and work assignments will provide increasingly in-depth exposure in the evaluation of performance management and planning systems, and outreach efforts.

Intern will participate in a 2-year formal training and development program designed to provide him/her with important competencies in order to progress to more responsible activities during the duration of the program. Intern will be promoted to higher grade level when administrative and qualification requirements have been met, but not beyond the established promotion potential of the position. Upon successful completion of the program, intern may be converted to career-conditional or career appointment, as appropriate. An intern who does not perform successfully or progress sufficiently during the program may be separated at any time.

Key Highlights of the Administrative Career Intern Program
